Introduction

Ayukii!

This Personnel Policy Manual contains information about the employment policies and practices of the Karuk Tribe in effect at the time of the most recent approval. Except for employment at-will status and the arbitration agreement, the Karuk Tribe reserves the right to change, in its sole discretion, all such policies and practices and the hours, wages, working conditions, job assignments, positions, titles, compensation rates and benefits for any employee. Other than the Tribal Council of the Karuk Tribe, no manager, supervisor or representative of the Tribe has any authority to enter into an agreement for employment for any specified period of time or to make any agreement for employment other than at-will. Only the Tribal Council of the Karuk Tribe has the authority to make any such agreement and then only in writing.

The policies set forth in the Personnel Policy Manual replace any and all previous policy statements, whether written or oral, which differ from or are inconsistent with the policies expressed in this Manual. No such prior policies or procedures shall have any force or effect after the effective date of this Manual.

Nothing in this Personnel Policy Manual creates, or is intended to create, a promise or representation of continued employment for any employee. Employment at the Karuk Tribe is employment at-will. Employment at-will may be terminated at the will of either the employer or the employee. Employment and compensation may be terminated with or without cause and with or without notice at any time by you or the Karuk Tribe.

Moreover, nothing in this Personnel Policy Manual is intended in any way to waive the Karuk Tribe's sovereign immunity nor is the manual intended in any way to manifest any consent to such jurisdiction whatsoever. Native American tribes are sovereign governments. Sovereignty allows the Karuk Tribe to exercise their right to define the rules and apply those rules to people, places, and things. It is the express policy and practice of the Karuk Tribe to protect and maintain that sovereignty as well as immunity from state or federal jurisdictions. These statuses and associated rights form the basis of the principles behind the policies set forth in this manual and are intended to protect the inherent rights of the Karuk Tribe. This manual does not allow any actions, claims or awards to be brought or enforced against the members of the Karuk Tribal Council, tribal Staff or any entity of the Karuk Tribe.

This Manual is designed to familiarize you with our major policies. If you have any questions about any of the listed policies, or about the terms, conditions and/or benefits of your employment with the Tribe, or about the content of this manual, you may ask your Supervisor (or designee) for clarification.

Yootva!

Right to Revise

The Karuk Tribe reserves the right to revise, modify, delete or add to any and all policies, procedures, work rules or benefits stated in this Manual or any other document, except for the policy of at-will employment. However, any such changes will be in writing, approved by the Tribal Council and must be signed by the Tribal Chairperson. Any written changes to this Manual will be distributed to all employees so that employees will be aware of the new policies or procedures. No statements or representations can in any way change or alter the provisions of the Manual. Nothing in this Employee Manual, or any other personnel document, including benefit plan descriptions, creates or is intended to create a promise or representation of continued employment for any employee.

Personnel Policy Manual

SECTION 1 General Policy Statement

1.1.0 Origin and Delegation of Authority

The origin of authority on personnel matters is the Tribal Council. Program Directors are delegated the responsibility to advise the Council of necessary revisions to the Personnel Policies and to interpret these Personnel Policies as required. Program Directors are delegated authority to implement these policies.

SECTION 2 Position Classifications, Categories and Specifications

The accrual of benefits is determined by the classification of the employee and not the hours worked in a particular week.

2.1.0 Position Classifications

Employment at the Karuk Tribe is employment at-will. Employment at-will means that an employee may resign at any time with or without advance notice to the Tribe or with or without “cause.” Likewise, the Tribe may terminate any employee at any time with or without advance notice and with or without “cause.” Except for Tribal Council, no manager, supervisor or representative of the Karuk Tribe has any authority to enter into any agreement for employment for any specific period of time or to make any agreement contrary to employment at-will. Only Tribal Executive Council has the authority to make any agreement contrary to employment at-will and then only in writing.

Employees at the Karuk Tribe are classified by the Tribe as exempt or nonexempt and full-time, part-time, temporary, or seasonal.

Exempt Employees. Exempt employees are regular employees whose job assignments meet the federal requirements for overtime exemption as specified in Section 13(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. Exempt employees are compensated on a salary basis and are not eligible for overtime pay. Your supervisor will inform you if your status is exempt. Exempt employees may have job assignments that require full or part-time work. Following the completion of the initiation period, full-time exempt employees are eligible for all employee benefits described in this Manual. Following the completion of the initiation period, part-time exempt employees are eligible for some, but not all, employee benefits described in this Manual.

Nonexempt Employees. Nonexempt employees are regular employees subject to federal overtime regulations, and will be compensated for overtime hours worked in accordance with the law as specified in Section 13(a)(1) of the Fair Labor Standards Act. Nonexempt employees must comply with the Tribe’s policies regarding overtime work.

Full-Time Nonexempt Employees. Full-time nonexempt employees are regular employees who are normally scheduled to work and who do work a schedule of 40 hours per week. Following the completion of the initiation period, full-time nonexempt employees are eligible for all employee benefits described in this Manual.

Part-Time Nonexempt Employees. Part-time nonexempt employees are regular employees who are scheduled to and do work less than 40 hours per week. Part-time nonexempt employees may be assigned a work schedule in advance or may work on an as-needed basis. Part-time nonexempt employees are eligible for employee benefits based on the number of hours they are assigned to work each week. This is based on their Notice of Appointment at time of hire or later Personnel Action Notice; it will not vary each week.

Part Time Under 20 Hours Per Week. Employees working less than 20 hours per week will not be eligible for any employee benefits, with the exception of Retirement benefits according to the plan document requirements.

Part Time 20 or More Hours Per Week. Employees working 20 or more hours per week will be eligible for Retirement benefits according to the plan document requirements. These employees will be entitled to annual and sick leave benefits on a pro-rated basis according to the number of hours they are scheduled to and do work.

Part Time 30 or More Hours Per Week. Employees working 30 or more hours per week will be eligible for Group Insurance and Retirement benefits according to the plan document requirements. These employees will be entitled to annual and sick leave benefits on a pro-rated basis according to the number of hours they are scheduled to and do work.

20	50	48

Temporary Employees. Temporary employees are employees who are employed by the Tribe for short-term assignments. Short-term assignments will generally be periods of three months or less. Temporary employees are not eligible for employee benefits and may be classified as exempt or nonexempt on the basis of job duties and compensation.

Seasonal Employees. Seasonal employees are employees who are employed by the Tribe for short-term assignments in excess of three months. Their work will generally coincide with field seasons for various projects. Seasonal employees are not eligible for employee benefits and may be classified as exempt or nonexempt on the basis of job duties and compensation. Seasonal employees shall accrue annual and sick leave in accordance with policy guidelines and shall be compensated for holidays which fall on a scheduled work day during their season. Seasonal employees are not eligible for health insurance benefits in accordance with plan guidelines. Seasonal employees will be laid off during the off-season and re-hired when projects commence each year. They shall be subject to pre-employment urine drug screening if they have been laid off for more than thirty (30) days. Fire crew personnel are not classified as seasonal employees.

Individuals working through an employment agency (leased employees, etc.) and those working as independent contractors are not considered “regular” employees of the Tribe and are not entitled to any employment benefits provided by the Tribe except as specifically provided in this Manual. If you have any questions about your classification, you should check with your supervisor.

2.2.0 Initiation Period

The first 180 days of continuous employment at the Tribe during which you learn your responsibilities and get acquainted with your fellow employees is considered an initiation period. During this time you will have a chance to decide whether you are and will be happy with your job, and your supervisor will have the opportunity to determine whether you are adapting to your new work. Within 30 days of completion of your initiation period, you will be given a written performance review addressing your strengths and weaknesses.

If the Karuk Tribe decides you should continue to be employed, you will be advised of any improvements expected from you. You will be given the opportunity to express any recommendations that you have to improve the efficiency of the Tribe. Completion of the initiation period does not entitle you to remain employed by the Karuk Tribe. Both you and the Karuk Tribe are free, at any time, with or without advance notice, and with or without “cause”, to end the employment relationship and your compensation. During the initiation period you are not entitled to use any accrued employee benefits including but not limited to sick, vacation or compensatory time. However, you may access the Tribe’s open-door policy during the initiation period in order to raise any issues, concerns or suggestions you may have regarding your employment relationship with the Tribe.

SECTION 3 General Considerations

3.1.0 General Considerations

It is the policy of the Karuk Tribe to make employment-related decisions, including but not limited to hiring, firing, appointment, promotion, demotion, disciplinary action, or wage modification consistent with federal discrimination laws only to the extent such laws are applicable to the Tribe. It is also the policy of the Tribe to give preferential treatment to qualified Indians to the full extent provided for and permitted by applicable federal law to meet the needs and objectives of the Karuk Tribe as determined by the Tribal Council.

3.2.0 Nepotism

Individuals may not apply for positions in which their supervisor would be an immediate family member.

3.3.0 Immediate Family

For the purposes of this Personnel Policy Manual immediate family is defined as the following: Spouse, Co-Habitant, Significant Other, Parents, Siblings, Children, Grandparents, Grandchildren, Father-in-Law, Mother-in-Law, Son-in-Law, Daughter-in-Law, Step-Parents and Step-Children.

3.4.0 Employment of Council Members

Tribal Council Members are not eligible for employment within the Tribal organization, including any of its subsidiary corporations as it may pose a conflict of interest to have an employee on the Tribal Council. Employees of the Tribe may run for the Tribal Council, but if elected, must resign their position in accordance with Resolution 92-R-28, approved May 11, 1992. This exclusion does not apply to paid positions on the Tribal Council, which are currently Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson, as they are employees of the Tribe.

SECTION 4 Payroll

Our Tribe complies with federal law provisions for family, medical and pregnancy disability leaves. The Tribe will grant these leaves to employees as required by applicable law in effect at the time the leave is granted. We intend to grant leave benefits only to the extent the law requires.

You must request any leave in writing as far in advance as possible. If you have not contacted your Supervisor at the end of your scheduled leave, we will assume that you do not plan to return and you have terminated your employment. If you are unwilling or unable to return to work at the conclusion of the leave you are allowed, your employment may be terminated.

Employees Who May Take Leave

Before you may seek a leave of absence you must:

- a. Have been employed by the Tribe for at least 12 months; and
- b. Have worked at least 1,250 hours in the previous 12 months; and

This does not include leave time an employee is allowed because of pregnancy disability. The Tribe will use a "rolling" 12-month period measured backward from the date you begin a leave to determine how much leave time is available to you unless another calculation is required by law.

Advance Notice and Medical Certification

You may be required to provide us advance leave notice and medical certification. Your leave request may be denied or your leave delayed if these requirements are not met.

- a. You must provide us 30 days notice of your need to take leave, if you know about the need in advance, or you must notify us as soon as you can if you did not know about the need for a leave at least 30 days in advance.

Job Benefits and Protection

We will continue our contributions for your health care coverage for the duration of your leave. You must continue to make any premium payments for health care coverage for yourself or your dependents that you are now making, if you want the coverage to continue during your leave. Employees will normally be restored to their original or equivalent position with equivalent pay, benefits, and other employment terms when they return from leave. Your use of leave allowed by this policy will not result in the loss of any employment benefit that accrued prior to the start of your leave. However, at your option or our option, certain kinds of paid leave may be substituted for unpaid leave. Key employees may be subject to reinstatement limitations in some circumstances. You will be notified of the possible application of limitations on reinstatement at the time you request leave if you are a key employee.

Premium Cost Repayment

Any tribal employee who is not able to fulfill his or her duties for any reason shall automatically be terminated after 90 days, and all benefits shall cease at that time, continuance beyond this time period is not automatic and must be specifically approved by the employee's Supervisor and the Chairperson or his designee. Supervisors are required to follow normal personnel procedures to extend the leave of absence (ex; by filing a personnel action notice to the appropriate department) (ex; fiscal or personnel). This does not apply to Head Start employees.

SECTION 7 Employee Conduct

7.1.0 General Rule of Conduct

All employees shall conduct themselves in a manner that exemplifies the mission of the organization. Such conduct shall display a blend of professionalism. Failure to adhere to the standards described herein may be grounds for immediate disciplinary actions.

Business casual attire shall be acceptable for all staff. This shall be construed to mean neatly dressed and professional looking. Attire shall be appropriate for office tasks, meetings, public interaction, and representing the Tribe. Denim, bearing no holes, is acceptable.

Scrubs and lab coats shall be acceptable for Health and Dental Program personnel. Casual dress will be allowed on Fridays. Shorts, spaghetti straps, and thong sandals will not be acceptable at any time in the offices.

7.4.0 Conflicts Of Interest

Situations which result in actual or even potential conflicts of interest must be avoided by all employees. Personal, social and economic relationships with competitors, suppliers, customers or co-employees which may impair an employee's ability to exercise good judgment on behalf of the Tribe, or which give the appearance of such impairment, create an actual or potential conflict of interest. Any employee involved in such a relationship must immediately and fully disclose the nature of the relationship to the Tribal Council so a determination can be made as to whether an actual or potential conflict exists, and if so, how to correct the situation.

In situations where an employee is processing paperwork which may directly benefit themselves or a member of their immediate family, a second signature shall be required from the Chairperson, Chief Finance Officer, Human Resources Manager, Executive Director of Health and Human Services, or Director of Administrative Programs and Compliance to avoid any appearance of a conflict of interest and to provide adequate internal controls.

Your immediate Supervisor will periodically review your performance and discuss the review with you in private. Your first performance evaluation will be made within 30 days after you complete your initiation period. After that review, your performance will be reviewed at least once a year on or near the anniversary date of your employment with the Karuk Tribe.

Your performance evaluations will include factors such as the quality and quantity of the work you perform, your knowledge of your job, your initiative, your work attitude and your attitude toward others. The performance evaluation is designed to help you become aware of the progress you are making and of the areas in which you need to improve. At the time of your evaluation you will be required to sign your Job Description, Confidentiality Statement, Harassment Policy and the Substance Abuse Control Policy and Procedure Acknowledgment.

8.2.0 Progressive Discipline

The purpose of this section is to state the Tribal Council's position on administering equitable and consistent discipline for unsatisfactory conduct in the workplace. The best disciplinary measure is the one that does not have to be enforced and comes from good leadership and fair supervision at all employment levels.

The discipline system is not formal, and the Tribal Council may, at its sole and absolute discretion, deviate from any order of progressive disciplinary actions and utilize whatever form of discipline is deemed appropriate under the circumstances, up to and including immediate termination of employment. The Tribe's policy for discipline in no way limits or alters the at-will employment relationship.

The Tribe's own best interest lies in ensuring fair treatment of all employees and in making certain that disciplinary actions are prompt, uniform, and impartial. The ideal outcome of any disciplinary action is to correct the problem, prevent recurrence, and prepare the employee for satisfactory service in the future. By using progressive discipline, we hope that most employee problems can be corrected at an early stage, benefiting both the employee and the Tribe.

Disciplinary action may call for any of four steps – verbal warning, written warning, suspension with or without pay, implementation of a corrective action plan, or termination of employment – depending on the severity of the problem and the number of occurrences. There may be circumstances when one or more steps are bypassed.

Written warnings will be placed in the employee's file and if after one year, the employee has not had any other written warnings or suspensions; they can request that the warning be removed. If additional written warnings or suspensions are issued during the year, the warnings will become a permanent record of the file.

Progressive discipline means that, with respect to most disciplinary problems, these steps will normally be followed: a first offense may call for a verbal warning; a next offense may be followed by a written warning; another offense may lead to a suspension or corrective action plan; and, still another offense may then lead to termination of employment.

The Tribe recognizes that there are certain types of employee problems that are serious enough to justify either a suspension, or, in extreme situations, termination of employment, without going through the usual progressive discipline steps. All suspensions and terminations must be reviewed by the Chairperson or Executive Director of the appropriate entity before execution.

While it is impossible to list every type of behavior that may be deemed a serious offense, the following list includes examples of problems that may result in immediate suspension or termination of employment. However, the problems listed are not all necessarily serious offenses, but may be examples of unsatisfactory conduct that will trigger progressive discipline.

- a. Falsification of employment records, employment information, or other Tribe records.
- b. Recording the work time of another employee or allowing any other employee to record your work time, or allowing falsification of any time card, either your own or another's.
- c. Theft, deliberate or careless damage of any Tribe property or the property of any employee or customer.

- q. Distributing unauthorized literature or any written or printed material during working time or in work areas. (This does not include your meal and break periods.)

- cc. Threatening, committing or encouraging of any act of violence in the workplace or against any employee, supplier or customer of the Tribe. Workplace violence is not a joking matter; all statements will be taken seriously.

- 4) Employees who wish to stop but who are unable to successfully complete a smoking cessation program, or who have quit smoking but are experiencing related difficulties, may seek additional assistance from our Mental Health Substance Abuse Programs.
- 5) Employee participation in educational, counseling, or cessation programs related to smoking is strictly voluntary.

Substance Abuse Control Policy and Procedure

Policy Statement

It is the intent of the Karuk Tribe to promote a safe, healthy and productive work environment for all employees, to protect the general public and to comply with federal and state law. The Tribe recognizes that the illegal and/or excessive use of controlled substances and/or alcohol is not conducive to safe working conditions. It is the objective of the Tribe to have a work force that is free from the influence of controlled substances (illegal drugs) and alcohol during working hours and at all times on the Tribe premises. The term “the Tribe premises” includes all property, facilities, land, buildings, structures, automobiles, trucks and all other vehicles, whether owned, leased or used by the Tribe or its affiliates or subsidiaries. This policy applies to all Tribe employees.

Purpose of Policy

The purposes of this policy are:

2. to ensure the sound reputation of the Tribe and its employees within the community and the industry;
3. to reduce the number of injuries to persons or property; and
4. to reduce absenteeism and tardiness and to improve productivity.

Policy

The following rules represent the Tribe’s policy concerning controlled substance and alcohol abuse, effective immediately.

- (1) The unlawful possession, manufacturing, distribution, dispensation or use of any controlled substance is inconsistent with the Tribe’s objective of operating in a safe and efficient manner and is strictly prohibited. - (2) Employees taking physician-prescribed medications which impair their job performance should not report to work. Employees taking physician-prescribed medication which will not impair their job performance should present a statement from the prescribing physician to the employee’s Supervisor indicating the duration of the prescription and stating that the use of the prescription will not impair the employee’s ability to perform his or her specific job duties. This Policy does not require or request the prescribing physician or the employee to identify any prescription drug or the medical condition for which it is prescribed.

The Tribe reserves the right, at all times and without further notice, to have the Tribe’s representatives conduct searches and inspections of any or all employee lockers and other Tribe property for the purpose of determining if this Policy has been violated.

All vehicles and containers, including bags, boxes, purses, lunch pails, brought onto the Tribe's premises are subject to the Tribe's inspection at any time the Tribe's representative authorized by the Tribe to make such a determination has a reasonable suspicion that a Tribe rule, policy or regulation has been violated and such an inspection is reasonably necessary in the investigation of such violation(s). Such inspections will be conducted, to the extent reasonably possible, in a manner designed to preserve the dignity of the employee. Inspections will be done in a private area, and will be conducted by a member of the same sex.

- (5) As a condition of continued employment, employees must abide by this Policy. As a further condition of continued employment, any employee who is convicted of driving under the influence of alcohol or a controlled substance or a violation of any criminal drug statute related to the unlawful manufacture, distribution, dispensation, possession or use of controlled substances in the workplace must inform the Tribe no later than five (5) days after such conviction of the fact of the conviction. Any employee who is so convicted shall be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including, but not limited to termination of employment. The Tribe in its sole discretion may require an employee who is convicted of any offense set forth above to satisfactorily participate and complete a drug use/abuse assistance or rehabilitation program as a condition of continued employment with the Tribe.
- (6) Violation of this Policy will result in disciplinary action, up to and including the termination of employment.

Drug Testing

All initial offers of employment with the Tribe will be made contingent upon satisfactory completion of a pre-employment controlled substance screen (bodily fluid testing). Employees who have been laid off for thirty (30) days or more will be required to submit to drug testing prior to resuming employment. Positive test results shall not bar re-application at a later time, but will result in the denial of employment. The waiting period for re-application following a positive test result shall be one year or upon completion of a rehabilitation program.

Individuals will be notified in advance, in writing of their pre-employment testing date, time, and location. Any individual who reports for a test and after a three-hour period fails to submit a specimen will be informed that the refusal constitutes a positive result.

Any individual who submits a sample that is rejected by the laboratory due to being diluted, will be required to immediately report back to the clinic for a repeat test. Should this occur three times in a row, a physician's note indicating the medical condition that is causing the dilution shall be required or the individual will not be hired for the position.

If an individual cannot make it to a test they must notify Human Resources as soon as possible so the appointment can be rescheduled. Under no circumstances may an Employee contact the Clinic directly to change an appointment.

Any employee found to be in violation of this policy, or who refuses to submit to a search or urine and/or blood analysis, shall be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including termination. All employees are expected to cooperate with any investigation regarding this policy. Failure to cooperate, providing false information or omitting information may subject any employee to disciplinary action, up to and including termination.

If the Tribe has reasonable suspicion to believe that an employee is (1) intoxicated or under the influence of controlled substances or alcohol or (2) has used controlled substances or alcohol on the Tribe's premises or during working time, the employee may be directed to undergo an immediate physical examination, including controlled substance and/or alcohol testing at an independent licensed laboratory, to determine the employee's compliance with this Policy and fitness for duty. A reasonable suspicion may be based upon the employee's appearance, behavior, body odors, and speech or upon other factors constituting reasonable suspicion. In order to protect customer safety and health, to preserve professional reputation, and to insure the fitness for duty of all employees, the Tribe may direct any employee to submit to the discretionary drug or alcohol testing to detect the current use or abuse of alcohol or controlled substances at any time.

Testing will be administered at a laboratory selected by the Tribe. When an employee is directed to undergo testing because the Tribe possesses reasonable suspicion that the employee is intoxicated or under the influence of controlled substances or alcohol, the employee shall be transported to the laboratory by another person designated by the Tribe.

If the Tribe directs an employee to undergo controlled substance or alcohol testing based on a reasonable suspicion, the employee will be placed on unpaid leave from the time of the initial testing until test results are received and reviewed by the Tribe. In the event controlled substance and alcohol screen results are negative, the Tribe may convert the unpaid leave to a paid leave.

An employee who submits to testing will be tested for alcohol (only for reasonable suspicion testing), amphetamines, barbiturates, benzodiazepines, cannabinoids, cocaine, methadone, and opiates. Positive test results for these substances will be considered unacceptable.

Any positive test results shall be automatically confirmed by a gas chromatography-mass spectrometry (GC-MS) test. If the GC-MS results are positive, the employee may designate a qualified testing laboratory whose work product is of a quality acceptable to the Tribe to test the original bodily fluid sample independently at the employee's expense. The Tribe will arrange delivery of the sample to designated laboratory. Any employee who thinks that they will request independent testing, must request and pay for split sampling at the time they are sent for testing.

Any employee whose test results are positive for the presence of any of the specified substances will be given a reasonable opportunity to explain or present exculpatory evidence in writing before any results are reported or disciplinary action is taken. Regardless of the explanation or evidence presented, the Tribe retains the absolute and exclusive right to determine the extent to which an employee will be disciplined, and such discipline may include termination or not hiring the applicant.

In the event an employee whose test results are positive for the presence of any of the specified substances could, in the opinion of the Tribe, benefit from a rehabilitation program, the employee may be offered the opportunity to participate in a rehabilitation program. If appropriate, in the sole determination of the Tribe, the employee may be given unpaid time off to participate in the program. Full cooperation, participation in and completion of any rehabilitation program begun by the employee will be required as a condition of continued employment. No employee involved in a rehabilitation program will be permitted to return to work at the Tribe until laboratory bodily fluid tests arranged by the Tribe are negative for the presence of all of the specified substances. Any employee returning to work after successful completion of a rehabilitation program may be required as a condition of continued employment to specifically agree to submit to bodily fluid testing at the direction of the Tribe, at any time for a specified period of time to be determined on a case-by-case basis.

The Tribe will use every effort to maintain the confidentiality of individual test results and participation in rehabilitation programs by an employee.

Employee Awareness and Assistance

The Tribe has established a drug-awareness program for the benefit of its employees. The Tribe shall make information available regarding the dangers of controlled substance and alcohol use and abuse in the workplace to any employee who wishes such information. Any employee who feels that he or she has an alcohol or a controlled substance use or abuse problem and needs assistance with the problem may request a meeting with the Executive Director of Health and Human Services, the administrator of the Tribe's drug awareness program, for assistance. At the employee's request, the Tribe will provide referrals to outside professional counselors and programs for diagnosis and therapy. Any inquiry regarding assistance with alcohol or controlled substance use or abuse problems will be kept in confidence by the Tribe.

Employees who seek professional counseling, treatment or rehabilitation for alcohol or substance abuse related problems will not be adversely impacted by their acknowledgment of a problem. To the extent required by law, the Tribe will make a reasonable accommodation for applicable leave or unpaid time off for an employee provides acceptable documentation that he/she is attending any such program on a regular basis. Participation in therapy or rehabilitation shall not excuse any violation of this Policy.

An employee may use earned and accrued paid time off for the purpose of entering and participating in an alcohol or drug rehabilitation program. However, an employee shall not earn and accrue salary or benefits while on leave of absence. Group health insurance may be continued if the employee pays the cost of the premium during the leave of absence.

The Tribe will make an effort to reasonably accommodate an employee returning from a leave of absence granted pursuant to this policy by placing the employee in the same position or in a similar position to that previously occupied by the employee at the same or similar rate of pay, provided that such accommodation does not impose undue hardship on the Tribe and provided that such accommodation does not, in the opinion of the Tribe, subject the employee, co-employees or the general public to risk of injury or harm. If no current openings are available when the employee is able to return to work, the employee will be placed on a preferred re-hire list for future positions.

Any employee who believes he or she has a controlled substance or alcohol dependency problem is also urged to contact in confidence a Drug or Alcohol Abuse Hotline.

Closing

This policy has been instituted in order to assure the maximum safety and well-being of all employees, the public and other personnel. Your assistance and cooperation toward the achievement of this goal is vitally important. The Tribe regrets any inconvenience that this policy may cause but believes it necessary for the overall well being of all employees.

Interview questions shall be developed and/or reviewed by the hiring department prior to interviews being held. This voting procedure also does not apply to interviews for the Executive Director position of KTHA or KCDC. The choice of a candidate shall not be official until approved by a vote of the Karuk Tribal Council.

The Interview Committee shall have the option of selecting a second choice applicant which will remain eligible for placement in the position should the first choice decline or vacate within the first 90 days of employment.

Objection by Committee Member

In the event that a member of the Interview Committee objects to the selection made, or feels there was bias from any individual on the interview panel they shall clearly voice that concern to the Committee at the interviews and request that the TERO Director convene the TERO Commission for review of the hiring decision. The TERO Commission shall come together within 24 hours of notification that review is necessary. No notifications shall be made to applicants until the dispute is resolved. The results of the TERO Commission's review shall be presented back to the Interview Committee immediately for reconsideration. Should the Interview Committee still be unable to achieve consensus after these steps, the matter shall be forwarded to the Tribal Council for final review and decision.

Post Interview Procedure

Upon the decision of the Interview Committee, the Human Resources Department will notify all applicants of the results of their interview. The Human Resources Department shall schedule all Urine Drug Screens for selected individuals and notify the Department Director/Supervisor of the results upon receipt and coordinate new employee orientation with the Supervisor and Health Program, when applicable.

Mandatory Training for Emergency Preparedness and Response

The Karuk Tribe requires that all employees and tribal council members attend specified training and classes as provided in this policy.

The initial required classes are core curriculum of the Incident Command System (“ICS”) and are intended as a foundation for required learning and knowledge. You will be expected to perform certain functions and integrate your skills within the ICS. Additional training classes, drills and functional exercises (referred to collectively with the initial ICS training as “training classes”) may be required from time to time as planned and directed by the Tribe. This additional training may include, but not be limited to first aid and CPR training.

Initial ICS training classes are taken progressively as follows:

- ICS 100 and IS 700 classes are for all staff (all employees and tribal council members not listed below in a separate classification)
- ICS 100, IS 700 and ICS 200 classes are for field staff which includes all road crews, maintenance crews, custodial crews, and Department of National Resources (forestry/fisheries/fire) crews.
- ICS 100, IS 700, IS 800, ICS 200 and ICS 300 classes are for mid-level staff which includes all work leaders, technicians, and specialists.
- ICS 100, IS 700, IS 800, ICS 200, ICS 300 and ICS 400 classes are for command staff which includes all directors, managers, officers, and supervisors.

Based on special skills and expertise needed to assist and support in times of disaster or emergency you may be designated as Emergency Support Function personnel and required to take additional training classes. Your supervisor will assist you in determining your applicable classification and the appropriate training classes to attend.

Attendance at all training classes is mandatory; ICS 100, ICS 200, IS 700 and IS 800 are online however classroom instruction may be provided while the test is to be completed online. The Tribe will schedule the required training classes and advise you, with reasonable notice, of the options for attendance. The Tribe will reimburse reasonable travel related expenses incurred for attending the applicable training.

Nonexempt employees will be compensated for time spent traveling to/from and attending the training classes. In the discretion of the Tribe, the rate of pay for traveling to/from and attending these training classes may vary from your regular rate of pay. Overtime will be paid consistent with the Tribe’s regular compensation policy. Nonexempt employees must record the actual hours of travel and attendance in their time records. Exempt employees will not receive any additional compensation for travel or attendance.
